Please see the attached notes with information and clarifications from the pre-bid tour.
Please find the pre-bid tour sign-in sheet attached to this addendum.

- Rock and gravel may be sourced from the landowner's property. Any agreement about additional fill materials must be conducted between the contractor and the landowner. No additional project material may be sourced from the site without the expressed consent of the landowner.
- There are access points to the project site both upstream and downstream.
 - The upstream site must move around the cultural site near the headgate
 - The downstream site would need to build material over the buried mainline for the irrigation diversion
- Stream crossings with equipment are allowed but should be limited. Please see technical specifications and designs under HIP3 guidance for details.
- The contractor will be required to pump water from the upstream pool to the irrigation headgate to supply water to the landowner during the project.
- Angular rock can be used in streambed simulation material but must be composed of basalt. Any supplemental rock that is angular should be placed lower in streambed and backfilled with native stream material.
- All in-stream equipment must have bio-oil hydraulic fluid.
- Fish salvage and isolation with blocknets will be performed by Monument SWCD and partner agencies.
- Post-construction planting and seeding will be performed by Monument SWCD staff.
- Cultural sites must be left undisturbed. All equipment is excluded from these sites.
- Cultural sites will be flagged and clearly marked prior to construction.
- Benchmarks and design staking will be completed by Anderson Perry staff prior to construction. A project engineer will be present periodically throughout implementation.
